Employment and Unemployment in the Portland Metropolitan Area October 2025

Employment Reports Delayed Again After Federal Government Shutdown

The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) has resumed production of the monthly employment reports for the nation on a delayed schedule after the lapse in federal government appropriations that began on Oct. 1, 2025.

The most recent update from the BLS on Wednesday, Nov. 19 says, “BLS will not publish an October 2025 Employment Situation news release. Establishment survey data from the Current Employment Statistics survey for October 2025 will be published with the November 2025 data. Household survey data from the Current Population Survey could not be collected for the October 2025 reference period due to a lapse in appropriations. The household survey data is not able to be retroactively collected. The collection period for November 2025 data will be extended for both surveys, and extra processing time will be added.”

Currently, the Portland Metropolitan Area’s monthly nonfarm job estimates and unemployment rate data are still not available beyond August 2025. Publication dates for the states and metropolitan areas have not been announced.

Next Press Release

The BLS will update its revised news release schedule as new information becomes available. The Research Division’s schedule of future releases will be updated as federal partner agencies issue more guidance.
